

Outline Ethics of the Dark Web (Team #4)
Shahan Rahman, Jun Zheng, Hasibul Islam, Asif Rashid, Sabrina Akter

Our Main Argument: Considering what the dark web can entail, one can say that in its purest form it is ethical due to freedom of information.

Project is going to be a written report that discusses the dark web.

I. Introduction

a. General Background Information

The dark web is one of the most mysterious parts of the internet. From criminal activity to social freedom, the dark web is accessed by millions everyday. Since regular search engines can't access dark websites; special tools are required to even interact with this part of the internet. Considering what the dark web can entail, one can say that in its purest form it is ethical due to freedom of information. To really dive into this argument, it is important to know what the dark web is and how to access it. Then, see a positive view that supports why the dark web is ethical. Although, it is important to play devil's advocate and see other views on why some believe that the dark web is not ethical. From these two opposite views, it needs to be discussed on why this is such an ethical dilemma. Lastly, looking at present events we can see real world examples of the effects of the dark web. After these discussions, it will be clear that the dark web is truly an ethical product.

II. Sub-topic/ Argument ONE: What is the Dark Web?

- Give the reader background on how to access and know what this part of the dark web is.

III. Sub-topic / Argument TWO: What is ethical about the Dark Web?

- Give the point of view for arguing why the dark web is ethical and positive about this tool

IV. Sub-topic / Argument THREE: What is not ethical about the dark web?

- Give the view of why the dark web is not good and how it is not ethical to use or have in the world.

V. Sub-topic / Argument FOUR: Why is the Dark Web such an ethical Dilemma?

- Now this argument is to see both views of the dark web and compare and contrast the points made in the previous two paragraphs.

VI. Sub-topic / Argument FIVE: Recent Events regarding dark web and how are people using it today? Political (GOOD/BAD)

- Now end off the paper with talking about recent events regarding the dark web and how it is good in china.
